THE CHEAPEST COTTAGE PIANO IN INDIA.

MESSRS. MARCKS & Co., LD., Agents for MESSRS. SCHIEDMAYER and SOEHNE, have the pleasure to announce, as the result of much careful negotiation on their part, that they have induced Messrs. Schiedmayer and Soehne to make a thorough good Pianoforte of the Cottage Shape, void of all ornamentations and possessing an action of the best quality, warranting durability, and a fullness and grandness of tone, characterising the High Reputation of the Celebrated Firm of Manufacturers, at a price to compensate for the low value of the Rupee at the present time.

MESSRS. MARCKS & Co., Ld., are now able to offer these Pianos to the public and to guarantee them, with the utmost confidence, to give entire satisfaction to the purchaser and do credit to their recommendation.

These Pianos are built with the same amount of care and skill as the Standard Indian Sympathetic Squares by the same Makers, and are specially built for all tropical climates. Solid ebonized case, metal frame, full compass, perfect check action.

These Pianos have been made to meet a certain demand for Well-made Pianos at a fair price, and which demand would be very much greater—to quote an English Journal on its review of the Cheap Piano Trade—if it had never entered the mind of man to make gewgaws a nine pounds apiece and call them Pianos.

TREZUKA
THE NEW BRAIN AND NERVE FOOD.

This remarkable compound, the result of the latest developments and achievements of modern chemistry, pharmacology, and therapeutics, is without equal in all cases of defective nerve and brain power, whether induced by worry, overwork, unhealthy climate, dissipation, excess, youthful imprudence, or other influences incidental to the wear and tear and haste or overstrain of modern life. Sleeplessness, tremblings, palpitation, nervous dyspepsia, low spirits, delusions, mental and bodily prostration, muscular and local weakness, lassitude, general and nervous debility, faulty nutrition, premature decay or deficiency of the vital forces, physical incapacity, waste of vitality, harassing dreams, night disturbances, sudden startings, dimness of sight, defective hearing, loss of memory, inability either to perform the various duties of life, or to enjoy its pleasures, restlessness that can settle to nothing, irritability of temper, female complaints, hysteria, painful periods, backache, bearing down sensations, nervous headache, wasting disease, consumption, night sweats, &c., are all so many different phases of brain and nerve exhaustion, the cause of by far the greater portion of the misery, ill-health, and despondency by which we are confronted on every hand, that can only be successfully combated by the use of this highly scientific preparation. Bracing up the system generally, it gives tone to the exhausted nerves, arrests all weakening wasting discharges, involuntary losses, &c. ; restores the failing powers, and imparts new life and energy to what had so recently seemed worn out, "used up," and valueless.

ZAROUBA
THE EXTRAORDINARY BLOOD MEDICINE.

Never before was there anything like it, nor can its marvellous properties ever be equalled in all cases of poorness, impurity, or other imperfection of the blood from whatever cause arising. No sooner is it imbibed into the system than it permeates and penetrates to the minutest capillaries, overcoming and expelling the virus of disease, wheresoever and in whatsoever form met with ; removing all blotches, pimples, scurf, scurvy, scrofulous and glandular swellings, discolorations, roughness and unsightly patches, &c., producing a soft, silky, infant-like smoothness, elasticity and clearness of complexion, skin and body. Its effects are almost magical in the treatment of gout, rheumatism, pains and swellings of the joints, syphilis, secondary symptoms, bone disease, eczema, lepra, psoriasis, bad legs, bad breasts, abscesses, ulcers, wounds, sores, goitre or Derbyshire neck, it improves the general health, and quickly removes long-standing bronchitis, asthma, and hacking, straining, spasmodic cough, too often the precursor of consumption.

CAUTION.—Ask for TREZUKA or ZAROUBA, whichever is required, and see that you get them, as unprincipled vendors often try to palm off inferior preparations (usually their own manufacture) for the sake of extra profit. TREZUKA and ZAROUBA are Trade Marks, registered at the Patent Office. Legal proceedings will be taken against all persons pirating.

COMMON-SENSE IN A NUTSHELL.—A book for young men, containing just that information which every one contemplating matrimony should possess ; whilst married persons suffering from incapacity and exhaustion should procure a copy without delay. Price 6d., of any of the Agents for above medicines, or post free from NEVILL JOHNSON, 9, Bond St., Claremont Sq., London, W.C.

A CHARGE OF KIDNAPPING A MINOR.—Yesterday afternoon, before Mr. J. Sanders-Slater, Chief Presidency Magistrate, Yemadi Peer, a Mahomedan, of Upper India, was charged with kidnapping Nathu, a girl, aged ten years, the daughter of Ahmedi Peerbux, a Mahomedan fitter. The complainant said in his evidence that accused was kept in the house where he boarded, and allowed to sleep on the verandah. On Monday last, he eloped the girl, and went to Thana, where the complainant followed him, and charged him as above. The defence was that the girl was betrothed to him, and he took her with him to his brother's house. The case stands adjourned.

A CHARGE DISMISSED.—Before Mr. W. Webb, Third Presidency Magistrate, at the Esplanade Police Court, yesterday, Mirza Bundee Ruza appeared to answer the charge of criminal breach of trust in respect of Rs. 700. Sayed Abdool, at whose instance the accused stood charged, received an intimation from the Nawab of Patna, that he would be paid Rs. 700 to defray the expenses of those Mahomedans who intended to go to Mecca on haj. The complainant having an occasion to leave Bombay left instruction to the accused to receive the money. The accused received the money, which, he said, he spent in sending up hajees to Mecca. The magistrate found that no criminal intention was proved, and dismissed the charge.

THE G. I. P. RAILWAY WATCHMAKER.—We learn that the contract entered into by the G. I. P. Railway with Mr. Cursetjee Cowasjee, the well-known watch-maker of Meadow Street, has been renewed by the Company for another term of years. It was competed for and obtained by the firm, when the G. I. P. Railway line was first started in Bombay many years ago; and even in the face of very close competition, which ensued in subsequent years, the firm succeeded in securing the contract from time to time, when it came to be renewed. This fact of itself bears testimony to the punctuality and honesty with which the firm has worked the contract from the beginning; and these qualities find a fitting recognition by the railway authorities in the present renewal of the contract.

BHUSAWAL N. G. LIBRARY.—On Sunday, the 14th instant, the half-yearly meeting of the Bhusawal Native General Library for the half-year ending 30th June, 1895, was held in the reading-room, under the presidency of Dr. Cooke, the district surgeon of the station, and the subscribers mustering strong for the occasion. The secretary read the report, which was enthusiastically adopted. The number of subscribers on the roll was 153 with receipts amounting to Rs. 345-8, and the amount that stood to the credit of the library was as under:—Saving Bank, Rs. 479-6-10; donation fund, Rs. 27-2-9; cash hand with the secretary, Rs. 10-11, total—Rs. 517-4-7. After a heated discussion on several matters connected with the institute the secretary was presented with a turban and a pair of cocoanuts, in recognition of his unremitting services. The meeting came to a conclusion with a vote of thanks to the chairman and the distribution of pan-supari and attar.

THEFT BY A MOULVIE.—At the Mazagon Police Court, yesterday, Inspector Mynn charged Noormahomed Alla-ud-deen, a moulvie, before Mr. P. H. Dastur, Fourth Presidency Magistrate, with theft of nine gold buttons, a metal watch, and Rs. 4 in cash, all collectively valued at Rs. 114, the property of Shaik Ibrahim Shaik Mullen, a butcher, residing at Chimna Butcher Street, on Tuesday night. The facts of the case have already been reported. On Wednesday mid-day, the accused was arrested by the police, at Phool Gully, and on searching his house five buttons were recovered, while the rest of the buttons were found melted down, with a Mahomedan goldsmith, named Mahomed Joosub, to whom they had been sold by the accused. The magistrate convicted the prisoner, and sentenced him to two months' rigorous imprisonment. The goldsmith Mahomed Joosub was then charged before the same magistrate, with receiving and retaining stolen property, but as there was not sufficient evidence to prove, "guilty knowledge," he was discharged.

THE LATE MR. JOHN GREYHURST.—On taking his seat in court, yesterday morning, Mr. W. R. Hamilton, Second Presidency Magistrate, remarked that before commencing work he wished to say how sorry he was to hear of the death of Inspector Greyhurst. He was a very capable and promising officer, and if he had lived, would, no doubt, have taken high rank in the police force.—Mr. F. S. Taleyarkhan, barrister-at-law, asked his worship to be allowed to add a few words of tribute to the memory of the deceased on behalf of the practitioners of the court, and remarked that he would be expressing the prevailing sentiment of that body, when he said that in the death of Inspector Greyhurst, the police force had lost a most zealous and valued officer. They (the practitioners) in the course of their practice had to come in contact with the European police officers, and thus they had opportunities of judging them, and he (Mr. Taleyarkhan) had no hesitation in saying that they never came in contact with a more courteous and obliging officer than the deceased gentleman, and the practitioners in the court greatly felt his loss.

THE ROBBERY AT MESSRS. E. D. SASSOON AND CO.'S MILLS.—Mr. W. Webb, Third Presidency Magistrate, at the Esplanade Police Court, yesterday, further heard the case, on which Mr. Elias Benjamin, superintendent of Messrs. E. D. Sassoon and Company's Mills, charged three mehtas and a clerk with theft in respect of Rs. 5,000, belonging to Messrs. E. D. Sassoon and Company. Mr. Gilbert, solicitor, appeared for the complainant; while Mr. Davar, barrister-at-law, Mr. Bhaishankar solicitor, Mr. Spencer, pleader, and Mr. Mganlal, solicitor, defended the four accused, respectively. The magistrate, after recording some evidence, remarked that there was no direct evidence to bring home the charge of theft. Mr. Gilbert remarked that the money was entrusted to the accused, and being charged with criminal breach of trust it was for them to account for the money. Superintendent Brewin being engaged in an important enquiry could not attend to this case as energetically as he would have, and therefore his worship might grant a week's postponement. Mr. Davur and other legal gentlemen, representing the accused persons, opposed the application for a postponement on the ground that accused were put to unnecessary expenses, besides, there was no sufficient evidence produced against them. The magistrate remarked that there was enough evidence to justify a postponement, and the case was adjourned until next Wednesday.

ALLEGED HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—Premchund Dhalaji, a marwaree lad, aged eleven years, having his shop, at Jacob's Circle, went to another marwaree's shop, opposite the Victoria Gardens, at 1 o'clock, on Wednesday afternoon, and after receiving from the latter Rs. 125, in notes and silver, put them into a towel, and having rolled the bundle up in his dhotur, was going back to Jacob's Circle, when he was met by a Maratha, near the bay market, on Clerk Road. The Maratha asked the boy for shelter from the rain under his umbrella, but this the lad refused. The man, however, forced himself under the complainant's umbrella and having knocked him down, ran away with the towel, containing the money. The lad immediately got up, and followed the robber, who disappeared in a short time. Complainant then went to policemen Nos. 1110 and 830 E, who were on duty some distance, and they in company with the lad, proceeded to the spot, where the robbery was alleged to have taken place, and then went in through the bay market, in the direction which the Maratha had taken, inspecting the route with the light of a lantern, with the result that the whole of the currency notes and Rs. 12 in cash, the towel, and also a velvet cap, believed to belong to the Maratha were found lying scattered on the way. Enquiry is being made for the Maratha, who is said to be about twenty-five years of age, of medium height, and fair complexion.

SOCIETY FOR THE ENCOURAGEMENT OF CHEAP AND HEALTHY GUJARATI LITERATURE.—The first annual meeting of this Society was held in the premises of the Gokaldas Tejpal High School, on Sunday. The scheme for the foundation of the Society was prepared by Mr. Vanmalidas L. Modi, of Ahmedabad, editor of "Hindustan," and it was registered under Act XXI. of 1860. The object of the Society as laid down in that scheme, is to give facilities to Gujarati writers to promulgate cheap and healthy literature among the Gujarati-reading public, and to check the spread of demoralizing literature by publishing a critical periodical conducted by competent Gujarati writers dealing with current Gujerati literature. On the motion of Mr. Vanmalidas, seconded by Mr. C. V. Divan, Mr. Lukmidas Khimji, who has greatly assisted the society in collecting funds, was called to the chair. Mr. Vanmalidas read the report, which was adopted, together with the memorandum of association. The report stated that Rs. 13,524 were already subscribed towards the funds of the society till the end of June, 1895, and about Rs. 7,000 had since then been promised. On the motion of Mr. Mansukhram Suryaram, seconded by Mr. Chunilal L. Parekh, Mr. Bhaishankar Nanabhai was appointed president for the current year. A managing committee, consisting of the following gentlemen, was then appointed:—Messrs. Vishvanath Prabhu (vice-president), Lellubhai Agharam, Tansukhram Mansukhram, Martand N. Mehta, Krishnalal M. Javeri, Motilal R. Kapadia, Chandulal V. Divan, Jivabhai Bhikhabhai, Kasam S. Thariani, Mulji Khatao Makanji, and Dr. Popat Prabhuram. ROBBING HIS DECEASED MASTER.

MR. J. SANDERS-SLATER, Chief Presidency Magistrate, at the Esplanade Police Court, yesterday, resumed the hearing of the case, in which Jairaj and Harimindan stood charged with theft, in respect of property and ornaments, valued at Rs. 579, belonging to his deceased master, Withowasji Maharaj. The deceased Maharaj died on the 14th ultimo, and at his request the whole of his property, ornaments, and other things were taken possession of by Ruttonsey Mull, a cloth merchant, to deliver up the same to deceased's heirs, who lived in Ida. The assignee went to the deceased's place of residence in Bholwada, on the 13th day after his death, to take possession of the property, left by the Maharaj. Accused was there, and he requested that he should be paid up his wages, and allowed to go to his native country. The mehta of Ruttonsey made up the account and found that accused was entitled to Rs. 8-8 as his wages. Before being paid he was asked if he had in his possession any property belonging to the deceased. He replied in the negative. He was then asked to show all his things to Ruttonsey and the mehta. He hesitated but being compelled to do so opened his bag, in which a quantity of ornaments, dhotars, clothes, and other sundry articles, belonging to his deceased master were found. Ruttonsey and his mehta identified the property as belonging to the deceased, and the accused was made over to the police. Inspector Sloane made enquiries in the matter, and charged the man before his worship. After recording some more evidence the case was adjourned.

JAPAN has lost one of her poets by the death of Motoyosi Saizau, who, on account of his health and other circumstances, had resided for some years in the French capital, in one of the hospitals of which he died on Saturday from consumption. It is feared that the end of this Japanese genius was brought about through indiscretion in his literary labours. Notwithstanding the fact that he worked hard all day and often far into the night, writing original articles and translating Japanese works into French, Motoyosi Saizau had not made a fortune in France. When he was conveyed to the hospital, on May 12, he was unable to satisfy the claim of the landlord of his furnished lodgings, who, therefore, seized all his clothes, papers, and other goods and chattels, as guarantee for the debt. Motoyosi Saizau was born at Tokio, and was only twenty-seven years of age.

RETIREMENT OF A DISTRICT POLICE SUPERINTENDENT.

IN yesterday's Government Gazette appeared a notification announcing the retirement of Khan Bahadur Dhanjeeshah Dadabhoy, District Superintendent of the Thana Police, and the appointment of Mr. Austin, of the Surat Police, as his successor. Owing to failing health, Mr. Dhanjeeshah retires from the service, at the early age of fifty-one years, having faithfully and zealously worked for upwards of a quarter-of-a-century. He was the only native who held the responsible post of a District Police Superintendent, at least on this side of India, having qualified himself both in law and linguistic acquirements, so essentially necessary for the due discharge of his duties. He was educated in the Elphinstone Institution at Bombay, and entered the railway service as a paymaster on the B. B. and C. I. Railway at the early age of sixteen years. He was soon after promoted to a first-class station, Baroda, where he attracted the attention of Captain C. F. Boulton, who was then deputed to organise, for the railway police, and was selected by that officer to the post of an inspector of police on the railway. He soon after made a note for his successor that he was not disappointed in the very high expectations that he had formed of Mr. Dhanjeeshah's ability. Lieutenant Babington, Captain La Touche, Colonel Brown, and Major Payne Baras were so much pleased with his work, that special mention was made of this officer's services in all the annual reports, and other public documents, and he was given a special promotion. His services in connection with "claim cases" were specially brought to the notice of the Board in England, who passed commendation on his services for settling a claim of Rs. 38,000 for Rs. 616 without incurring any expense. He was specially commended by magistrates and sessions judges for detecting the frauds of re-issuing tickets by railway servants, and for exposing bribery and corruption amongst them. The most important service he rendered to the Railway Company was the detection of a gang of robbers, who committed robbery by jumping on a moving train between Wasud and Anand, and taking away the ornaments of women by cutting off their hands and absconding before the arrival of the train at the next station. This offence occurred while Mr. Dhanjeeshah was on leave. He was recalled and entrusted with the investigation. The magistrate, in convicting the accused persons, remarked among other things:—"It again becomes my pleasing duty to notice with an approbation, bordering almost on admiration, the remarkable detective skill, manifested by Mr. Dhanjeeshah in successfully tracing the crime, and the unimpeachable honesty and regularity of his proceedings. It would certainly do credit to the best organized police force in the world to be able to detect a most impudent offender belonging to a country, removed hundreds of miles from the scene of the offence, with nothing known concerning him, which can impute to him the slightest shadow of suspicion, and with no other guide than an indifferently prepared list, containing names of women's clothing to pave the way for further inquiry." The Government, in their resolution, declared Mr. Dhanjeeshah to be entitled to considerable credit for showing great skill and perseverance in the detection of this crime. He was to be rewarded by the distinction of a Khan Bahadurship, but he made a representation against the proposal, as he did not like the idea of placing any titular value upon his services.

On the G. I. P. Railway, he was instrumental in the detection of the murder of a woman, who was placed on the line after having been killed, and who was run over, and buried after the inquest held on her body, the case being classed as an accidental one. Mr. Dhanjeeshah was not satisfied with the inquiry, and had the body exhumed, and brought the four murderers to justice: and he was again commended by Government. He passed his examination for the post of an Assistant Superintendent of Police, and was appointed acting Assistant Superintendent of Police in the Ahmedabad District. He was afterwards appointed acting Superintendent of Police at Broach on two occasions. In November, 1885, he was appointed Assistant Superintendent of Police in Thana, and was commended for his services in the destruction of a gang of dacoits, who committed depredations in the Thana District, and returned to their homes in the Damaun State. Mr. Dhanjeeshah was employed in the operations on the frontiers of the Ghauts against the notorious Rama Murga and his gang in 1887, and he guarded the passes so well that no members of the gang were able to run down the Ghauts, when pressed by the police from above them, which led to the surrender and apprehension of the entire body of the outlaws. Government acknowledged his services in this case also. He was appointed District Superintendent of Police at Bijapur in April, 1889, in the Panch Mahals, in August of the same year, and at Thana in 1890. For the arrest and conviction of a gang of dacoits, headed by Nana Bapu, Mr. Sinclair, the District Magistrate of Thana, sent for Mr. Dhanjeeshah's acceptance the sword of the dacoit, Nana, with which he was arrested, and with which he had defied the police for several months. During the recent riots at Poona and Bombay, some portion of the Thana District was in a state of ferment, but with tact and judgment Mr. Dhanjeeshah was able to preserve peace and order, and to send a body of his men for assistance in Bombay. In almost all the Government resolutions, Mr. Dhanjeeshah's services, in the Thana District have been eulogized by the authorities. His health, however, suffered seriously from exposure, rendered necessary by the nature of his active out-door duties; and the medical officer believed that, should he continue in service, it would only be endangering his life. Such being the case, Mr. Dhanjeeshah was obliged to retire at the early age of fifty-one, very much before his time to do so.

BOMBAY MARKET REPORT.

THURSDAY EVENING, JULY 18.

HEAVY and pretty continuous rain has prevailed at the Presidency for some days, and reports from the districts regarding the progress of the S. W. monsoon are now generally of a favourable tenor. A large business has been done this week in Cotton by local spinners, at some advance in rates; but exporters have been entirely out of the market on most days. The falling-off in arrivals of new Cotton this season into Bombay, compared with last year's receipts, is 205,000 bales. Wheat has been neglected by shippers as usual. Seeds have been taken to a moderate extent for export in a steady market, and Linseed is rather higher. Exchange has been quiet but fairly steady throughout the week, at about last Thursday evening's closing rates, closing at 1-32d. thereover. The Money Market is easy. The Freight market closes weak at about 6d. lower; but demand does not improve and little business has been done. Although the first rainfall in the principal consuming centres has, on the whole, been favourable, the wholesale demand for Imports does not improve, and we have again to report a small business in staple Manchester goods at rates which continue to favour buyers.

MONEY.—The greater abundance of money which we anticipated in our notice of the Presidency Bank's last weekly Statement of Affairs, and which was indicated by the reduction of the Bank's rates by one per cent. at the Board meeting on Thursday last, was further illustrated by the Return issued last Monday, which shows an increase in the Cash Balance of 46¼ lakhs, at 224¼ lakhs, compared with a falling-off of some 8 lakhs in the week preceding. The principal item in which any movement was shown since the date of the previous Return was Private Deposits, in which there was an increase of over 42½ lakhs, a small addition having been shown in Loans, and a trifling decrease in Bills Discounted, the net falling-off in trade-requirements having been epresented by 37¼ lakhs, as against a diminution of 27½ lakhs in the previous week.

The feeling continues easy, with Money becoming more abundant daily, and the demand for it decreasing; and the minimum rate of the Bank of Bombay remains at 4 per cent.

EXCHANGE opened last mail-day at 1s. 1 5-32d. for Bank Telegraphic, 1s. 1 3-16d. for Demand, and 1s. 1¼d. for three months' sight Credits. Later, Telegraphic and Demand were obtainable at 1s. 1 3-16d., ready and forward, but met with no response from buyers, and the market closed steady. On Saturday rates opened with a steady feeling at 1s. 1 3-16d. for Bank Telegraphic and Demand, and 1s. 1¼d. for three months' sight Credits. A moderate amount of the latter was placed, and the rate then became 1s. 1 9-32d., at which the supply ceased. The market opened steady again on Monday at 1s. 1 3-16d. for Bank Telegraphic and Demand, and 1s. 1 9-32d. for three months' sight Credits, with but little business passing either way. Private Telegraphic at 1s. 1 7-32d., and three months' sight Credits at 1s. 1¼d., was reported before the close, and the market left off flat. The next day rates opened at 1s. 1 3-16d. for Bank Telegraphic and Demand, and at 1s. 1 9-32d. for three months' sight Credits. Telegraphic re-sales were reported to some extent at 1s. 1 7-32d., but for Bank Paper the enquiry was practically nil., and at closing, rates were again flat. Yesterday the market opened with a steady feeling at 1s. 1 5-32d. for Bank Telegraphic and Demand, and 1s. 1¼d. for three months' sight Credits. Re-sales were reported to some extent at 1s. 1 3-16d., and the market at closing was flat. The 60 lakhs of Indian Council Bills offered in London yesterday were placed at 1s. 1 5-32d. between the three Presidencies; and this market opened steady this morning, at 1s. 1 5-32d. Bank Telegraphic and Demand, and at 1s. 1¼d. for three months' sight Credits. For Bank Paper again we heard of no enquiry at the opening rate; and in Merchants' Bilis there was practically nothing offering in the earlier part of the day, until quotations came firmer from Calcutta, and locally Telegraphic was available, at 1s. 1 3-16d., both ready and forward, at which a little was reported. Then a few Mercantile Bills also came out, and were placed at 1s. 1¼d., with more appearing at the close, when rates left off as follows:—

GOVERNMENT PAPER.—The market was steady and unchanged last mail-day, and remained to the close at the opening rates of 107 5-8 for Cash and 107¼ for the settling day at the end of this month. On Saturday the market opened at the closing rates of the day before, but advanced 1-16 per cent. above this level, in a steady market, having left off at 107 11-16 and 107 9-16 in the two positions, respectively. At opening on Monday the market was steady, and remained to the close at 107¾ for Cash and 107 5/8 for the Settlement on the 30th instant. Rates opened the next day at 107 11-16 for Cash and 107 5-8 for the Settlement, from which they advanced 1-16 per cent. in an irregular market, and closed at 107¾ and 107 11-16 for Money and Account, respectively. Yesterday the market was steady at a slight advance on the previous day's final rates, and closed on the same level at 107 13-16 for Cash, and 107 11-16 for the coming settling day. This morning 107 13-16 for Money, and 107 11-16 for Account were the opening rates, from which an advance to 108 and 107 15-16 in both positions, respectively, was established in a steady market, which was maintained to the close.

Municipal 5 per cent. loan is unchanged at 130. Port Trust Bonds are ¼ per cent. higher, at 106¼.

The Cotton Mill Companies managed by Messrs. Greaves, Cotton and Co. have just issued their reports for the year ending 30th June, 1895. These are very favourable and show that well-managed mills are still able to pay handsome dividends. It appears from the Howard and Bullough Mills accounts that the Capital is Rs. 7,46,000; Gross Profits for the year, Rs. 2,16,902; set aside this year for depreciation, Rs. 91,678; pays 10 per cent. dividend, and carries Rs. 50,599 to Reserve Fund; to the credit of Reserve and Depreciation, Rs. 8,82,371. James Greaves Mills, Capital Rs. 6,60,000; Gross Profits Rs. 1,53,282-5-3; set aside for depreciation, Rs. 61,624; pays 10 per cent. dividend per annum, and carries Rs. 25,658 to Reserve Fund; to the credit of Reserve and Depreciation, Rs.7,95,168. Connaught Mills, Capital Rs. 6,21,000; Gross earnings for the year, Rs. 1,54,011; set aside for depreciation, Rs. 65,728; pays a dividend of 10 per cent. per annum, and carries Rs. 26,183 to Reserve Fund; to the credit of Reserve and Depreciation, Rs. 8,83,853. Empress Mills, Capital Rs. 14,36,943; Gross Profits for the year, Rs. 2,99,553; carries to Depreciation Fund, Rs. 1,56,388; pays a dividend of 10 per cent. per annum and carries Rs. 19,018 to Reserve; total to the credit of Reserve and Depreciation, Rs. 12,47,061.

IMPORTS.

PIECE-GOODS.—Up-country buyers of Staple Grey Goods are still holding back, and their purchases for the week have been upon a very small scale. The orders which they receive from their friends in the districts are very small, being mostly of a retail character. Holders are anxious sellers but they can make but little progress with their stocks, which are daily increasing. In Bleached, Dyed, Turkey-Red, and Printed Goods, very little has been done during the past week. The market for Locally-made goods has continued to be very dull, and prices drooping. Holders do their best to find buyers, but only meet with retail purchases. The clearances of Imported goods during the week have been about 2,100 packages and of Local goods some 1,100 bales Yarns. Only a small business has been reported in Imported Twist; but the feeling has been steady, and prices are unchanged. Sales of Local spinnings in China for the last fortnight have aggregated 15,000 bales with prices about one dollar higher, while Exchange has ranged almost on the same level as we reported last week. China buyers here are much excited, and they have made very large purchases, mostly for November and December deliveries. Prices are about 1-8 anna per pound higher than those ruling last week. The sales here for the week are estimated at 17,000 bales, and the market closed brisk and advancing at the following official quotations:—

METALS.—A large business has transpired both in Copper and Yellow Metal, the former having advanced twelve annas and the latter eight annas per cwt., both markets being firm in tone.

IRON has been in moderate request, and is steady at previous rates.

COAL.—A good business has passed this week in this mineral. A good line of Davidson West Hartley September shipment; and about 2,000 tons of Bothel's West Hartley September-October shipment have been sold at Rs. 16¼; and Rs. 15½, per ton, respectively. A small lot of Nimmo's Long Rigg ex Australia (8), in harbour, has also been sold at Rs. 14½ per ton. The market closes firm. We quote alongside:—

EXPORTS.

COTTON.—Shippers of this staple have been almost entirely out of the market during the past week; but local consumers have been large buyers from the balance of this season's supplies now in godown. The tone of the market was steady to the close of last week, and prices were unchanged; but meantime the feeling has become firm, and prices advanced Re. 1 per candy until yesterday, when a further rise of Rs. 2 to Rs. 3 per candy was established. The purchases for export during the week amount to only a few hundred bales of Bengal; but the Mills have taken some 18,000 bales, consisting of Oomra and Dhollera-Bhownuggree descriptions, Bengal, Compta, Dharwar, and Western. This evening the market closed firm with prices Rs. 4 to Rs. 5 higher than they were a week ago.

The Receipts of Cotton of this season's account during the past week have been 10,000 bales, compared with 11,000 bales to hand in the week preceding, and 73,000 bales in the corresponding week last year; and the deficiency in arrivals of new Cotton this season compared with last is now 205,000 bales.

The telegraphic weather and crop advices received from the districts on Monday report some rainfall in every part of the Cotton area with the exception of Bellary. The fall registered was generally light and insufficient, however, ranging from 5 cents at Agra, in the Bengal circle, to 2 inches 66 cents at Barsee, in the Oomrawattee circle. In the last-named district the fall had been sufficient for the present; but in most others more was required, more or less urgently, though at Julgaum, in addition to Barsee, in the same circle, and at Broach, the plants were flourishing; and at Dhollera they were making good progress.

This morning's telegrams advise a further light fall of rain in the Dhollera circle, where Cotton sowing was making good progress; and in the Oomrawattee circle, where, in most of the districts, a further fall was needed. In the Bengal circle no further rain, to speak of, had been registered, and more was much required; but at Broach 3 1-8 inches had been registered; the plants were flourishing, and prospects were good.

The following are to-day's quotations for full-pressed Cotton with the equivalents in sterling, cost, and freight to Liverpool via Canal, without commission, viz:—

The Bombay Gazette

FRIDAY, JULY 19, 1895.

BY Thursday noon the polls of three hundred and seventy-six constituencies, out of the six hundred-and-seventy, into which the British Isles are divided, had been decided, and the Unionists were a hundred and sixty-eight ahead, classing Liberals, Parnellites, Anti-Parnellites, and Labour representatives against them. It is not to be supposed that they will keep such an unparalleled majority. The polls in Scotland and Wales will greatly decrease the bulk, though it seems absolutely certain that Lord Salisbury will return to power, with a substantial majority, which is not likely to be reduced below working level for some years. Fifty-one retiring members were re-elected during Wednesday and seventeen new candidates take the places of those who retired. Most important event of the day is the defeat of the Rt. Hon. John Morley at Newcastle. The name of his opponent has not yet reached us. The Hon. G. N. Curzon has again been accepted by Southport, and proved himself still possessed of the "happy knack of success." Baron Rothschild is said to reign supreme in Aylesbury; it was therefore only to be expected that he would defeat his opponent. Sir Henry Seymour King, we are glad to learn, has not only been re-elected, but has increased his majority over Mr. Madison from 476 to 1,961. Sir Blundell Maple, whose name has been associated with Dulwich for many years, has regained the seat for which he tried in vain prior to 1887. Viscount Valentia, who succeeded the late Sir George Chesney, a few months ago, has again succeeded in retaining the seat to the Conservative party. North Leeds sends to Parliament the Right Hon. W. L. Jackson, who succeeded Mr. Balfour as Irish Secretary, whilst East Leeds has again accepted Mr. T. R. Lenty, who was given to opposing Mr. Jackson in the Northern Division until Mr. Laurence Gane's seat fell vacant. Sir Charles Dilke returns for the Forest of Dean despite Mr. Stead's maledictions. Mr. Causton goes back for Southwark, but not in such jubilant spirits we imagine as he was three weeks ago, when, though he prophesied Lord Salisbury would win, he declared it would be by the smallest majority, and his administration would be the shortest on record. Mr. Sydney Buxton, the author of the Parliamentary handbooks, Mr. Macdona, the president of the Kennel Club, and Mr. J. Havelock Wilson, the Labour representative of Middlesborough, go back again for their old constituencies. There is evidently some confusion about Bassetlaw, for early in the week we were told that Mr. Yoxall had gained the seat for the Liberals, but by last night's telegram it appears that Sir Frederick Milner, the retiring member, retains it. Mr. Walton and Mr. Herbert Gladstone again enter Parliament for their respective divisions of Leeds. Sir J. Jenkins displaces Major Jones in the Carmarthen district. Mr. J. J. Mellor is to occupy the seat of Mr. Leake for the Radcliffe division of Lancashire. Mr. Giles takes the place of the Hon. A. G. Brand for the Wisbeach division of Cambridgeshire. Captain Bagot goes back for Kendal, while Lord Edward Manners is returned for Melton, Leicestershire, the constituency which formerly sent the Marquis of Granby. Of the new members most received their baptism of fire at last election, but they were unsuccessful. Newcastle (one seat) South Edinburgh, South Shields, Kilkenny, Bow, Swansea, Bermondsey, Limehouse, Camberwell, East Hull, North Kensington, Walsall, Carmarthen, South-East Lancashire, Wisbeach, and Glasgow (College Division) are among the constituencies which have changed hands. In the last of these constituencies, Sir J. Stirling Maxwell takes the place of Dr. Cameron, who for a number of years past led the attack in Parliament against the Scottish Kirk.

MR. WOODBURN, the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces, has now issued his resolution upon the land revenue administration for the year ending September 30 last. The peculiar distribution of the monsoon rains had a bad effect on the rice crop, which was not so good as last year excepting in one division. The outturn of juari and tur was generally better than that of the preceding year, and the cotton crop was on the whole a fair one. The peculiar character of the season was, however, very marked in the case of wheat, which proved almost a total failure in several districts, owing to the rust produced by the excessive moisture. Indeed in Saugor and Damoh the land revenue instalment of June, 1894, had to be suspended, the new assessment postponed, a special takavi grant of five lakhs of rupees made, and relief works opened. We have to go back to 1854 to find a year of like failure. In the Chattisgarh Division—the only one in which the cultivators really prospered—there was a great extension of rice and linseed cultivation, and to a less degree in some other districts also. Cotton is another crop which is steadily growing in importance in the agricultural economy of the provinces, the area sown with it in the Wardha district having been more than doubled. This is to be accounted for simply by the operation of the law of demand and supply as applied to the local spinning industry. There seems to have been a heavy mortality among cattle in the eastern districts; a fact which the district officers attribute to the carelessness of the ryots, who make no attempt to separate diseased cattle from the others, and take no measures for their treatment. The mortality, however, mainly occurs among non-working cattle, and as the number of animals kept is far in excess of cultivating requirements the effect on the progress of agriculture is not serious. The most noticeable facts brought out by the trade returns were the continued expansion in the demand for coal and kerosine oil and the larger consumption of salt and sugar. The imports of cotton goods, however, show no perceptible increase, owing doubtless to the expansion of local manufactures. The immense value of railways in the development of the country is illustrated by the effect of the new Bengal-Nagpur Railway on the trade of Chattisgarh, which has far more than doubled since the line was opened in 1890-91. The observations and enquiries made by the Deputy Commissioners regarding the power now conferred on the cultivators to acquire occupancy rights lead them to the opinion that the ordinary tenant is either satisfied as he is, and has no desire to spend money on rights which are to him of dubious value; or else still remains in ignorance as to the power of purchase given him by law. The agriculturists largely availed themselves of the existing facilities for obtaining loans from Government to tide over bad seasons and also for land improvement. In passing Mr. Woodburn expresses regret that most of the district reports are silent concerning the relations between landlord and tenant. He also puts on record a similar criticism, in respect to the comparative absence of information in the district reports regarding the manner in which the patwaris and revenue inspectors did their work. Mr. Woodburn very truly remarks that there are few classes of public servants, whose duties bring them into more intimate contact with the people, or whose conduct, whether good or bad, is more likely to influence the cultivating classes, either in favour of, or adversely to, the methods and machinery of the administration. They have easy and frequent opportunities of harassing the villagers by exacting forced labour, taking supplies without payment or demanding bribes. Therefore it is incumbent on the district officers to have the work of these officials strictly and systematically supervised, and to have complaints promptly and thoroughly enquired into. The Chief Commissioner asks the district officers to give practical effect to his suggestions on this point, and to state in their next annual report how the land record staff have worked, and whether their relations with the people have been satisfactory. With regard to land revenue collection, the Deputy Commissioners are complimented, not merely for realizing wherever realization was proper and possible, but for the discretion shown in refraining from harsh measures where circumstances showed that such measures, might have caused legitimate discontent and even permanent impoverishment. There is a large amount of interesting matter in the review under other heads of the administration, with which we cannot now deal. Enough has been said to show that Mr. Woodburn's resolution is not a mere re-iteration of the reports from the districts, but a thoughtful commentary upon the work of the year, that cannot fail to be helpful to those who share with him the task of administering the Central Provinces. The review shows how great is the personal interest Mr. Woodburn takes in the agrarian and other problems with which he has to deal as Chief Commissioner, and bears out the high opinions which have reached us regarding his administration from various parts of the Provinces.

IN submitting to his Highness the Chief of Palanpur the administration report of that State, Mr. Dullabhji D. Ved, the Prime Minister, seems to have given way at times to the temptation to pitch the record in rather too high a key. But when due allowance is made for Mr. Ved's enthusiasm an ample margin is left for legitimate praise, and satisfactory proof exists that the little State made good progress during the twelve months ending March 31 last. That thorn in the flesh of Gujarat principalities, disputes between subordinate chieftains, is not however yet removed from Palanpur. While one long standing quarrel regarding the four villages of Andharea, Bankri, Kebeerpur, and Nagal has very recently been amicably terminated all attempts to settle the differences of the Ghedia Thakores have so far proved futile. The Durbar has, therefore, submitted a proposal to the Bombay Government that a commission should be appointed to effect a settlement, the cost of the enquiry to be shared by the disputants. The Chief of Palanpur was among the various loyal princes of India, who came forward upon the initiation of the Chitral Expedition, with offers of help in the shape of loaning ponies and camels for transport purposes. The offer, however, in this instance was declined, with thanks, adequate arrangements having been already made. The general health of the community was fairly good, and owing to large imports the people were enabled to buy their food-stuffs at low prices. Commerce which has long been in a depressed condition, is gradually improving, and the Chief Minister is hoping that with the facility of communication, now available, trade will again flourish as it did a few years back. Unlike the good people of Gondal, the Palanpur ryots are not very easily reconciled to the vighoti or cash system of land revenue. In one taluka the people went so far as to forcibly resist the survey operation, and it was not until "all kinds of remonstrances" had been used that they were brought to reason. But in spite of opposition the Revenue Commissioner has introduced the new system, in twenty-one villages as compared with thirteen in the preceding year. Native Chiefs will be encouraged to invest State funds in productive enterprises when they learn that the Palanpur-Deesa Railway, even during the first year of its existence, earned considerably over six per cent. The line besides being profitable to the Durbar and useful to the people affords facilities for our troops to reach the Deesa cantonments much more quickly than was possible before. Other means of communication are now being improved by the construction of pucka roads, and various works of public utility are being carried on, apparently as largely as the exigencies of State finances admit. The Chief contemplates taking a tour in Northern India, with his two sons, next cold season.

AT the same time as friends of Indian settlers in the colonies help to ameliorate their conditions it may be well to remind them that their future depends very much on themselves. If their disabilities are once removed and the proposed "ghettos" are forbidden, they must themselves prevent abuses, or they will have little chance of success. Indians in Australia have not behaved themselves well, and there are many old scores against some of them, which it will take time to wipe off. Hindu oculists in particular have gained a bad name for themselves, and the Australian papers to hand this week give an illustration. It seems that the Chief Secretary of the Victorian Government has directed the Chief Commissioner of Police to inquire into various accusations and Mr. Chomley called for reports from the officers in charge of the country districts. These show that until recently there were five so-called Hindu oculists touring the country districts, and staying a few weeks in the larger towns, but two of them are reported to have since left for India. They charged fees of from ten to twenty shillings, and in all the cases which came under the notice of the police except one the treatment was said to be apparently harmless as well as futile. In the one case referred to, however, the operation was very painful, if not dangerous, including bleeding at the eyelids and drawing off a piut of blood from the arm. This case was in the Gippsland district, and Mr. Pe

SOFIA, JULY 18.

M. Stamboloff died, this morning, from the injuries inflicted on him by his three assassins.

Stephen Stamboloff, the ex-Prime Minister of Bulgaria, has for some time been recognised as the one man above all others to whom the present position of that country, its freedom and its independence, are due. He is about forty years of age, and till his fall in June 1894 was regarded as one of the foremost statesmen of Europe. The Russians termed him "the dictator of Bulgaria." He was educated in Russia, and afterwards exiled. He was Prime Minister under Prince Alexander when the Servians were defeated at Slivnitza, and under Prince Ferdinand he steadily pursued his policy of consolidating the kingdom and fostering a national spirit. He frustrated numberless conspiracies, many of them fomented by Russian agents. By his command a number of conspirators were executed for treason in 1892. He secured the practical recognition of Bulgaria by the Sultan, and many concessions for the benefit of Bulgaria. But as the country became more settled, the autocratic and highhanded methods which were alleged against him made him many enemies, and a disagreement arose between him and Prince Ferdinand, which resulted in his resignation.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

(FROM OUR COMMERCIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

LONDON, JUNE 28.

THE change of Ministries and the preparation being made for a General Election have combined to render discussion of commercial subjects dull and commonplace. One question, however, which is much canvassed is the bearing that the return of Lord Salisbury to the Foreign Office may have upon Russian policy in China, and the consequent commercial effect of the change. There can be no doubt as to what Russia's intentions really are. Looking between the lines of recent moves on her part, two strong desires are apparent—the desire to obtain a fortified position south of Vladivostock, which is closed up by ice for four months out of the twelve; and the desire for a great increase of the volume of business with China, in order to utilize the Trans-Siberian Railway, when it shall be completed, for commercial as well as for strategic purposes, and so to enrich Russia. It must be admitted that at present the Russians have a poor stand in China. A recent report to the Treasury Department at Washington says, that shortly before the war there were 580 foreign firms engaged in business in China, of whom 354 were British, 81 German, 42 Japanese, 33 French, 30 American, and 12 Russian.

The statistics for 1894 of the Chinese Imperial Maritime Customs, which are out rather earlier than usual, show that the total gross value of the imports and exports of China last year was 295,515,072 Haikwan taels, of which Russia's share was 12,081,912 H. taels. The tonnage of Russian vessels entering Chinese ports was 138,472 tons, as against 20,496,347 tons for Great Britain—that is to say, 0·47 per cent. as against 69·19 per cent. Of the foreign and coasting trade, apart from that carried in Chinese bottoms, British ships took goods to the amount of 61·15 per cent. of the total value, and Russian vessels only 1·36 per cent. Towards the revenue of 22,523,605 taels England contributed 67·18 per cent. and Russia 1·31 per cent. The Russians have long been endeavouring to gain a better footing in China. The other day we were told that a party of Chinese merchants had, on the express invitation of the Ministerial Department of Trade and Manufacture, arrived at Moscow and made heavy purchases; and that there was a rumour that the Imperial Government was contemplating a material reduction in the customs tariff between Russia and China for a given number of years. There is in the old Russian capital a Society for the Encouragement, Development and Improvement of Manufacturing Industry, which had paid special attention and large sums of money to the question of finding outlets for Russian goods in Western China. Obviously, Russia cannot hope to compete with England, Germany, India, and Japan in the eastern ports of China. Her manufactures have not been sufficiently developed; her maritime navy is quite insignificant, and she is further away even than England, who possesses advantages of productive power that her would-be rival cannot hope to acquire within a century or two. But the completion of the great railway across Siberia will permit of a greater competition—over and above the existing caravan traffic—than is now possible, and we regard it as not improbable that the Government, which owns the railway, will aid its merchants by carrying the goods at very low rates. And it must be remembered that China is bounded, as to half of it at least, by Asiatic Russia, which territory contributes something, if not much, to the wealth of the Empire, and which is well situated to snatch a share of the trade of Northern and Western China with its uncounted millions. Ili-Tarbagalai and Mongolia are good markets for Russian produce, especially manufactured articles. Further, Russian merchants possess a double advantage. As foreigners they are allowed in China the privileges of which natives are deprived; and as Russians trading with China they are freed by decision of the Committee of Ministers from all trade taxes. Again, the ways of communication are very fair for the great route from Semipatatinsk to Tchougoutchak. But with all these advantages they are not doing well. English goods are penetrating into Sinkiang and Tibet by way of India, and France is in a position to tap the south and south-west from its position in Tonking. The Russian traders have not sufficient capital to make the most of their opportunities. Silver, too, has been against them, and it makes a difference when the pound of silver which is worth 900 roubles in China is only equal to 600 roubles at Semipatatinsk. It is only among the Kirghis and the Mongols that Russian trade in Western China shows any decided tendency to develop, and these nomadic tribes are not big customers, because they are poor.

The new treaty between France and China regarding the Tonquin and Annam frontier contains important stipulations regarding the transit of merchandise and the construction of railways and telegraph lines. In a word, it is a direct and practical advance towards the solution of that problem of French access to China by way of Tonquin and Yunnan, which has along been the chief concern of the more enlightened of the French colonial party whenever for a moment they forgot the Egyptian question. The importance to England of this new success of M. Hanotaux there is no need to demonstrate. It may now be expected that Germany in turn will gain some advantage or reward for the sevices rendered by her, in common with Russia and France, to China. It is an edifying spectacle to see what considerable benefits Europe has derived from the Japanese victories. As these victories are ascribed to the lessons taught for twenty years by Europe to Japan, it is only fair to say that in thus sacrificing her blood and money in this war the latter is generously repaying her teachers.

The Indian Import Duties Committee of the Association engaged in the cotton industry met in Manchester, the other day, to consider the position of the question in view of the resignation of the Rosebery Government. Mr. Tom Garnett presided. After discussion it was decided to issue a statement of the Indian Import Duties case to all candidates for Parliament, to be signed by representatives of employers and workpeople. It was also agreed to hold joint meetings of employers and operatives in every cotton textile town. The meeting was then adjourned till Tuesday morning next, on the understanding that it will probably be then known who is the new Indian Secretary. If Mr. Fowler goes out of office at once it is proposed to seek an interview with the new Secretary of State for India immediately.

The London tea season of 1894-5 terminated at the close of last month, and the position of the trade for the coming year is attracting considerable attention. The result of the past year's work was exceptionally good. To some extent circumstances have contributed to make it so; low freight rates and exchange helped the exports, while the consumptive demand continued throughout the year. Good management helped to increase the margin between the cost of production and the sale prices, so that profits were well maintained. The following figures give the exports from India and Ceylon during the past year as compared with the previous season :—

From	1894-5 lb.	1893-4 lb.
India	127,446,000	123,512,000
Ceylon	84,592,000	81,405,000

The shipments from India to the Australasian colonies showed a falling off, the total being only 4,845,000lb., against 6,200,000lb. in the previous season; but the trade with the United States increased from 1,500,000lb. to 2,000,000lb. The trade between India and Ceylon rose from 6,969,000 in 1893-4 to 7,447,000lb. last year. The future prosperity of the tea trade depends to a great extent upon the expansion of business with other countries, or the increased output may exceed the demand for consumption. It is gratifying, however, to note that while the quantity of British-grown tea used outside the United Kingdon in 1890 was only 13,400,000lb., the total in 1894 amounted to 28,400,000lb. The estimated Indian crop for the season we have just entered upon is 140,000,000lb., and that of Ceylon 91,000,000.

Only slow progress has so far attended the movement for promoting direct shipments of cotton to Manchester by way of the Ship Canal and for the establishment of a cotton market on the Victoria Flags. But perhaps the most significant testimony to the seriousness of the movement comes from Liverpool. At the meeting of the Mersey Docks and Harbour Board, the other day, a letter from the Liverpool Cotton Association was read urging the necessity for a reduction of the Liverpool dues on cotton in consequence of the efforts of Manchester to "wrest" from Liverpool the business which has so long been done there. "Only those actually engaged in the trade," the Liverpool Association declares, "can form an opinion as to the formidable nature of these efforts." A considerable reduction of the dues on wheat has, it appears, been recently made, and, in view of the undoubtedly great importance of the raw cotton trade to Liverpool, the Cotton Association demands a similar concession for that staple. Mr. R. Gladstone promised that the request should be seriously considered when the next revision of the dues takes place.

The annual report of the British Chamber of Commerce of Turkey, which has its head-quarters in Constantinople, states that the Chamber has continued to receive numerous applications for information and assistance from abroad, and that its importance and usefulness have in no way diminished. During the year the pratique regulations of the Dardanelles and the frequent collisons at the entrance of the Bosphorus have engaged the attention of the directors; a satisfactory improvement in the former has been secured, but no very definite results have yet followed as regards the latter. The movement for the adoption of the decimal system in this country has also received attention, as the adoption of the system as regards both weights, measures, and coinage by Great Britain would, it is said, greatly facilitate trade between England and Turkey. The annual address of the President of the Chamber, Mr. J. W. Whittall, is included in the report. Mr. Whittall highly eulogises the efforts of Sir Philip Currie, as the British Ambassador, to promote the interests of traders. "By his energetic repression of captious opposition to British trading and shipping interests," we are told, "by his enforcement of large and substantial claims that had been long in abeyance, and generally by a policy which evidenced a determination to allow no further trifling with British interests, Sir Philip has already improved the status of the British name in these regions and gained the gratitude of British traders and British subjects generally." The creation of a commercial secretaryship to the British Legation is again very emphatically advocated. As regards the trading results of the past two years, 1894 is said to have been worse even than 1893. The diminished railway traffic returns, the low prices of all produce, and "the signs of exhaustion which those who are competent to form an opinion see on all sides," show that the country is passing through a difficult time, of which it is not possible to foresee the eventual consequences. The riches of Turkey entirely depend on its agriculture. Owing to the retrograde policy of the Government, neither its industrial nor its mining resources can be developed. The consequence is that prosperity depends exclusively on good crops and high prices for these crops. Not only had Turkey bad crops, but, in common with other countries, unprecedentedly low prices. Mr. Whittall holds that the theories as to the immediate and great development of trade and agriculture in the country through the extension of railways have been too optimistic. The present population within the railway radius cannot produce more than a certain quantity of stuff, and before this population can be increased many years must elapse. It can only be increased by the slow process of immigration; the tendency generally of the local population hitherto has been towards diminution rather than increase. Therefore, "taking all these arguments together and coupling them with the greatest of all, i. e., the fact that very low prices of all agricultural produce prevail and are likely to continue to prevail," Mr. Whittall concludes that, so long as the Turkish Government places restrictions on mining and industrial enterprise generally and depends exclusively on the results of agriculture, the progress of the country must of necessity be retarded and years of bad crops be years of great suffering and distress.

The President of the British Chamber of Commerce in Turkey further urges that British trade with the Balkan provinces and with Persia and Central Asia, "which of necessity must pass through Constantinople," is being keenly competed for by foreign nations, who, in their ability to send their goods overland to the consumers direct, have a serious advantage over us already, as shown by the fact that "whereas our trade with those countries has been diminishing, that of our foreign competitors has been increasing of late years." If in addition to the present transit charges incurred British goods are to be saddled with heavy quay dues by the new Quay Company, they will be still further prejudiced. Even a half of one per cent. on the value of the goods using the quays, as charged by the quays at Alexandria, where far greater advantages are procured for trade than can be given by the quays in Constantinople, would in certain classes of goods turn the balance; but the Quay Company, it is stated, charges one and even up to three per cent. on the value. Such charges will kill a good portion of the trade, and transfer it to competitors. Nor must it be forgotten that the bulk of the transit trade is in high-class goods, such as prints, cloth, etc.

In reply to the recent memorial of the Gold Standard Defence Association to the Chancellor of the Exchequer, the bimetallists have now presented a memorial in the same quarter. Both documents must be judged, and it has been distinctly intended that they should be judged, first by the influential and representative character of the names attached, and secondly by the arguments used. Whatever may be their individual opinions as to the feasibility of international currency reform, candid critics cannot for a moment deny that in both respects—authority and argument—the bimetallist memorial is infinitely the more weighty of the two. As regards the names attached, the weakness of the gold memorial was that they too exclusively represented a class of bankers who cannot be considered as specially qualified by their particular business experience to give either an impartial or broad judgment on the question at issue. This was quite inadvertently admitted in the phrase "the interests which we specially represent," which appeared in the first edition of the memorial and was subsequently expunged. Not only does the long list of names attached to what may be described as the silver memorial far exceed in number the list appended to the gold memorial, but in its representative character it is so vastly more comprehensive that even comparison seems ridiculous. The Bimetallists have classified their names as "bankers," "manufacturers," "merchants," "landowners and agriculturists," "economic authorities," "labour leaders," and so on, and it may unhesitatingly be said that, putting on one side purely theoretical authorities, any one of three or four of these groups far outweighs the whole list of signatories to the gold memorial, even if judged merely by the special claims of the latter to knowledge of commercial and financial matters. Then as regards the arguments in the memorials; apart from their reliance on the authoritative character of their own mere expression of opinion, the gold memorialists trusted solely to an appeal to history. The gold-standard system as designed by the first Lord Liverpool, they urged, has been in operation in this country since 1816, and under that system "the commercial supremacy of Great Britain and the financial ascendancy of London have been established and maintained." As the silver memorialists point out, this statement of the case is simply not history. Prior to 1873, for instance, the operation of the French bimetallic system maintained the par of exchange between the gold and silver currencies of Great Britain and all her colonies and dependencies, and of all the other countries with which she traded. We all know that things have been quite different since 1873. How can the fact that during sixty years, when Lord Liverpool's gold system was regulated by bimetallism, no part of the Empire suffered monetary injustice, be used with any regard to common sense as a proof that our prosperity was due to a system which since the bimetallic regulator was removed has admittedly brought India to the verge of bankruptcy, to say nothing of the other evils recognised in the recent resolution of the House of Commons?

BOMBAY MUNICIPAL CORPORATION.

Ardasir Framji Unwalla, Badrudin bin Abdulla Kur, Bhagwandas Narrotumdas, Bhalchandra Krishna Bhatawadekar, Dr. Thomas Blaney, Messrs. Khote, Tribhowandas Munguldas Nathoobhoy, Tribhowandas Varjiwandas, Dr. Acacio Gabriel Viegas, Vithalrao Krishnaji Vandekar.

LIGHTING OF PRIVATE LANES.

In the commencement the President observed that last time the resolution, in connection with the petition from the residents of Newwady and Kandawady Lanes had been disallowed, but that they must have some resolution on the subject to dispose of that item on the agenda.

Professor Muller thereupon proposed that the petitioners be informed that their application could not be entertained, there being no provision in the Municipal Act to entertain the same.

Mr. Dhakji Kassinath suggested that for the satisfaction of the petitioners it might be added that they would stop the lighting of all the other private lanes.

Dr. Bhalchandra moved an amendment to the effect that the lighting of the streets be continued, and the residents be requested to hand over the lanes to the Municipality.

The President ruled the amendment out of order.

Mr. S. D. Khoto moved another amendment to the effect that the matter be referred back to the Standing Committee.

Mr. Kur remarked that the original recommendation of the Standing Committee was ruled ultra vires, and by referring the matter back to the Standing Committee no good would result as the Act was quite against lighting the private lanes.

Professor Muller having replied the amendment was rejected on a division, the original motion being agreed to.

INSANITARY CONDITION OF MATHARPAKHADY.

The Corporation next considered resolution of the Standing Committee, dated 29th May, that memorandum from the Acting Commissioner and the reports of the Executive Engineer and the Health Officer be forwarded to the Corporation with reference to a petition from the residents of Matharpakhady as to the alleged insanitary condition of that district, also further letter to the Secretary, from the Acting Commissioner, on the subject.

It was resolved on the motion of Dr. Bhalchandra that the petitioners be informed that several lanes in the Matharpakhadi cart were private property and could not be improved at Municipal expenses. The drainage of the district would be done during the current year, and when the house-connections were made they would be made at the expense of the owners of the property save in exceptional cases.

THE PROPOSED MARKET AT DELISLE ROAD.

The next business before the Corporation was a resolution of the Standing Committee as under :—"That petition from the inhabitants of Currey and DeLisle Roads and the neighbourhood, asking that Haji Oosman Dawood may be allowed to erect a private market, at Currey Road, and letter to the Secretary, No. 5899, of 21st instant, from the Acting Commissioner, be forwarded to the Corporation, with the remark that the estimates prepared by the Executive Engineer, on the 21st Jaouary last, for the erection of such market, amounts to Rs. 30,693, exclusive of the cost of land for site of same. That as the Corporation, by their resolution No. 11647, of 1st February, 1894, informed the former body that sanction could not be given to the establishment of a private market in the neighbourhood in question, the Acting Commissioner might, with the approval of the Corporation, be asked to include estimates for a Municipal market to be erected in DeLisle Road, or the neighbourhood thereof, in the budget estimates for next year; such estimates to be inclusive of the cost of the site for the same."

Dr. Bhalchandra proposed that the petitioners be informed that Haji Oosman Dawood could not be permitted to erect a market at De Lisle Road; and that the Commissioner be requested to include the estimates for the cost of erecting a Municipal market in the neighbourhood of De Lisle Road, in budget estimates for the next year.

Mr. K. M. Shroff moved an amendment to the effect that the petitioners be informed that Corporation did not consider it advisable to erect a market at De Lisle Road, or in the neighbourhood thereof. He pointed out that as trustees of public money it was their duty to see that the money they spent for erecting markets were properly invested. With the exception of Arthur Crawford Market which paid handsomely all the other municipal markets did not pay. The buildings erected for markets were so handsome and palatial that he would not mind having his bed in one of them, particularly in Colaba Markets. (Laughter.)

Mr. Ardeshir F. Oonwala did not approve of the Municipality competing with private owners of markets.

Mr. Bamonjee Master observed that if the Municipality had built the market at Dhobi Talao it should have paid them largely. But the Corporation yielded to the influence and pressure brought on individual members.

Mr. Kur : The Parsees?

Mr. Master : Yes, because Mahomedans were interested in the construction of that market. (Laughter.)

Mr. Hamilton urged the necessity of Municipality being the sole owners of markets. He pointed out the insanitary condition of some of the markets.

Mr. Master remarked that smell was consequent upon the rotten eggs being sold there. (Laughter.)

After some further discussion the amendment was put to the vote but rejected, the original motion of Dr. Bhalchandra being carried nem. con.

THE RECENT FATALITY IN DONGREE STREET.

Dr. Ismail Jan Mahomed, in accordance with a notice of motion, moved that the Acting Municipal Commissioner be requested to report (1) whether it was a fact that notice for the demolition of the house, which recently fell at Dongree Street, was served on its previous owner, and if so why the terms thereof were not enforced; (2) to submit a report stating the circumstances of the fall of the said house; (3) to state whether there were any houses in the vicinity of the fallen house, which were likely to cause a similar fatality and, if so, whether he had taken any action in the matter.

The Acting Municipal Commissioner, in replying to the queries, said that for the last five years no notice for demolition was given. As to the second part of the motion he might inform the Corporation that he was preparing a report on the subject as asked for by the Standing Committee, and it would in due course come before the Corporation. Regarding the last portion of the proposition Mr. Snow said that he was unable to say if there was a likelihood of a similar fatality taking place in the vicinity of that house.

After hearing the explanation from the Commissioner, Dr. Ismail withdrew his motion.

MUNICIPAL BUILDINGS.

Mr. Jeejeebhoy Framji Patel proposed, in pursuance of a notice of motion, "That the Acting Municipal Commissioner be requested to submit to the Corporation a complete inventory of all lands and buildings belonging to the Municipality showing, with regard to each of such lands or buildings, (1) its original cost; (2) the year when, and the purpose for which, the same was acquired or erected; (3) whether it is at present used for that purpose; (4) the income (if any) derived therefrom; and (5) the present market value thereof."

On the suggestion of Mr. Wacha the last portion of motion, namely, "the present market value thereof was deleted.

The proposition so amended was put to vote and carried.

IMPROVEMENT OF GARDENS.

Mr. Hamilton proposed : "That the Commissioner be requested to take measures to improve the condition of" the Elphinstone Garden, the garden at the Crawford Market, and the Falkland Road Garden."

Mr. Dinshah Wachaa, speaking to the motion, remarked that the Bazar Gate Garden was resorted to by no one except street-girls. He lived opposite, and his house overlooked into the garden.

The proposition was carried.

THE BUILDING BYELAWS.

On the motion of Dr. Viegas it was resolved : "That the Municipal Commissioner be requested to obtain and submit to the Corporation a report from the Executive Engineer as to what alterations or additions he considers necessary in the existing Building By-Laws for the better safety of the occupiers of houses."

This concluded the business of the current monthly meeting.

STORM WARNING.

The following telegram was received yesterday afternoon by the Port Officer, Bombay, from the Meteorological Reporter, Simla :—"Storm signal—hoist cautionary flag signal, cyclonic storm crossing head of Peninsula and wind averages twenty-five miles per hour and is increasing." Accordingly the cautionary signal was hoisted on the Town Castle flagstaff.—The Clan Line s. s. Clan Fraser, Captain T. Hill, which came on Wednesday evening from Glasgow, via Liverpool, experienced first part as far as Gomafui light winds and fine weather and latter part strong monsoon, high sea, and strong rain from 400 miles of Bombay.—The Hall Line Wistow Hall, Captain G. H. Barclay, arrived yesterday from Liverpool, had strong south-west monsoon.

In the forthcoming number of the United Service Magazine Colonel Maurice takes up the challenge which was thrown down by Mr. Innes Shand in his biography of Sir E. Hamley. Colonel Maurice at present deals only with the march to Tel-el-Kebir and with the battle, reserving for a future contribution the disputes about various other points. He certainly appears to provide a complete refutation of the charges with which he deals. In detailing the varied precautions which were taken by Lord Wolseley to make it impossible for Sir Edward to go astray, Colonel Maurice quietly, but with undeniable truth, sums them up in the sentence that if ever a divisional General was tied up in swaddling clothes and nursed across the march that General was Sir Edward. During the night march upon Tel-el-Kebir, apart from arrangements made to ensure the general success of the movement, all of which were ignored in Sir Edward's article, it is clear that Lord Wolseley had lost confidence both in Sir Edward's practical capacity for directing men in the field and in his readiness to carry out the orders given him. He therefore on the previous evening settled with Sir Archibald Alison the formation which the brigade should assume, and throughout the night sent his orders direct to the brigade commanders, having given Sir Edward broad hints that it was his intention to do so.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The date of arrival of Sirdar Nasr-Ullah Khan in India on return from Europe is not exactly known, but he is not expected at Bombay much before the second week in October, that is if he leaves Constantinople on the date given some time ago.

The foundation-stone of the the new water-works at Meerut will be laid by M. Alan Cadell, Lieutenant-Governor of the N. W. Provinces, who will go down from Naini Tal for the purpose about the beginning of next month.

The following figures represent the working results of the South Indian Railway Company (Limited) for the half-year ended the 30th ultimo :—Gross receipts, Rs. 44,40,000 : net earnings, Rs. 20,65,000 ; amount of company's share of the surplus profits, Rs. 1,52,000.

Mr. F. S. Coplestone will officiate as Judicial Commissioner in Upper Burma when Mr. Burgess goes on furlough towards the end of this month. Mr. W. T. Hall will officiate for Mr. Coplestone as Commissioner of the Northern Division, and will be succeeded as President of the Rangoon Municipality and Deputy Commissioner of Town Lands at Rangoon by Lieutenant-Colonel Cresswell, from Prome. Mr. Gaitskell will have charge of the Prome District as a temporary measure.

Government has accepted the recommendations of the Committee appointed last February to report on improvements to the Madras Harbour. The report and plans will, in the first instance, be forwarded to the Harbour Trust Board for favour of an expression of opinion and such remarks as it may desire to offer. In the event of the proposals of the Committee meeting with the approval of the Board, the Military authorities will be consulted on the question of the erection of sheds, &c.

The latest Meteorological return, issued on the 15th, shows a somewhat more hopeful condition of affairs. The area of unsettled weather which has prevailed off the West Coast for several days has disappeared, and with its disappearance the winds are free to resume the normal monsoon directions. At the same time the barometer has fallen fast in North-Western India, and large pressure differences characteristic of the monsoon period are re-appearing. The disturbing features are that the barometer remains too high, and the wind continues westerly over the Gangetic Plain. Still, in the opinion of the Meteorological Department, it is extremely likely that heavier and more extensive rainfall will occur within the next few days. The break in the rains has been of very fair duration. Thus at Allahabad, Lucknow and Cawnpore only four light falls of rain have taken place during the first half of July; at Mainpuri only one ; at Agra only two ; at Sirsa only three; and at Umballa only three. In consequence the temperature has been steadily rising, and day temperatures between 100° and 110° are reported in the Punjab and the west of the North-West Provinces.

An application was made to the District Magistrate of Rangoon on Monday for the issue of a warrant of arrest against Mr. Rice, a barrister practising in Burma, on charges of criminal breach of trust, &c. It is alleged that in December last Mr. Rice purchased stamps to the face value of Rs. 2,420 for a client. The business which the client was carrying through dropped, and there was no further need of the stamps. Mr. Rice, it is alleged, returned the stamps to the office, being paid the amount, minus the usual commission. Though this was done in February the money has not yet been paid, and repeated applications have had no effect. Mr. Tilly, the Magistrate, granted a warrant, allowing bail in Rs. 3,000 and two sureties in Rs. 3,000 each. Mr. Rice was formerly in the Indian Civil Service, and served for several years in Burma as a Deputy Commissioner, resigning about five years ago.

The German War Balloon Department has been experimenting with a new kind of balloon called the "Kite" balloon. It is in the form of an elongated cylinder, rounded at the ends. Instead of having the car suspended in the centre, it has it at one end, to which two smaller spherical balloons are also attached, one on either side of the cylinder. This arrangement gives the balloon a certain stability against the wind, and as, moreover, the balloon can assume an inclined position, after the manner of a kite, the pressure of the wind adds to the ascending power of the gas. It is hoprd that by means of a rudder sail, placed at the end to which the car is fixed, it will be possible to steer the balloon.

Russia (says the Odessa correspondent of the (Daily News) is losing no time in her anxious efforts to open up a larger commercial traffic with China. A party of Chinese merchants, invited by the Ministerial Department of Trade and Manufactures, has arrived in Moscow and made purchases to the value of half a million roubles. The Moscow trade guilds and private persons have combined to send cost free, and under charge of the Chinese visitors, an immense and varied assortment of sample merchandise to the chief Celestial trading centres. In commercial circles of the old Russian capital it is rumoured that the Imperial Government is contemplating a material reduction in the customs tariff between Russia and China for a given number of years—of course, in order further to promote and develop the enlarged commercial and industrial intercourse between the two countries which Russia confidently anticipates as one of the results of her closer relationship with the Government of Pekin.

"I am informed privately" (the Vienna correspondent of the Daily News writes) that the plot against the Sultan is connected with the bloodshed in Jeddah. A number of ulemas in this city and in Mecca wrote to their colleagues in Constantinople complaining that the Khalif not only took no notice that Christians were settling in the holy province, but that even the faithful, were punished, and even executed, when they avenged their wrongs upon the Christians. The ulemas thought that matters might be mended if a son of the deceased Sultan Abdul Aziz came upon the throne. These letters were communicated to the softas, who resolved to obtain admission to the Yildiz Kiosk at night and to liberate the Sultan Murad, who is kept a prisoner there. They hoped that when the place guard saw this Sultan they would submit, and Sultan Hamid would easily be made a prisoner. The price Sultan Murad would have to pay for his liberation was to renounce the throne in favour of his cousin Jussef Izzedin, son of the Sultan Abdul Aziz. As they required some comrades versed in arms, the softas and ulemas took the pupils of the military school of Pancaldi into their confidence, as these can easily obtain access to the Yildiz Kiosk. The military youths were to have disarmed the guards outside Murad's apartments, and the softas would have freed him. Everything was to have been done at night, so that Sultan Hamid would have been dethroned exactly like his uncle Abdul Aziz before him.

The Russian Holy Synod has no sooner formulated some exceptionally suppressive ecclesiastical measure against one newly-arisen heterodox sect than it is confronted with another. During the last decade more especially, these new sects have risen like mushrooms, and it is noteworthy that the discovery of their existence is never made until the new schism is largely propagated. The latest "heretical development" is a sect known as "The Pilgrims" or "The Wanderers." It has lately been discovered that there are many thousands of these sectarians located in the Siberian taigas in the Government of Tomsk, Kolyvan, and Marunsk. They lead a kind of primitive Christian life, and believe that the advent of Antichrist is close at hand. They state as their reason for retiring to the Siberian morasses, forests, and hills that the clergy of the Orthodox Church and the whole bureaucratic body of the Civil Government will be the first to fall under the dominion and power of the coming Archfiend. Their only safety and salvation for body and soul are therefore to be found in fleeing as far as possible from the accursed vicinity of the doomed Churchmen. The Holy Synod feels itself outraged by this extraordinary profession of faith on the part of "The Pilgrims," whom it anathematizes as the most malignant enemies of the Mother Church. Measures are to be at once adopted for rooting out the sectarians from their remote Siberian retreats.

TRAGEDY IN THE FORT.

Yesterday afternoon, a shocking tragedy occurred in Oak Lane, facing the University Garden, resulting in the immediate death of Buckumba, a Madrasee young woman, aged about seventeen years, and fatal injuries to her husband Kishnia, aged thirty years, lately a soldier in the 26th Regiment, Native Infantry, now on pension. The couple seem to have lived on unhappy terms for some time past, the husband doubting the wife's fidelity. They lived in a house at Madanpoora, where they used to quarrel frequently, and ultimately the husband laid the matter before the caste, who convened a meeting to investigate the dispute. The meeting, however, could not decide the matter, as the co-respondent did not appear. On Friday last, Buckumba came to the Fort, to reside with her parents, as she could no longer bear her husband's ill-treatment. Yesterday morning, the husband came to her father's house, and was well received by the wife's parents. Shortly before the tragedy occurred, the husband, the wife's parents, and her brother sat down in a room to take their tea. In the meantime the husband left the room, and went into the kitchen, where his wife was seated. Immediately after he entered the cook-room, the parents heard a cry. They rushed into the kitchen, and found to their horror that the husband and wife had fallen down into the gully, apparently through the window, a distance of about fifteen feet. They at once ran downstairs into the gully, where they found Buckumba was dead, and her husband had received serious injuries. Information was at once conveyed to Inspector Good, who promptly repaired to the scene, and had the injured man conveyed to the Goculdas Tejpal Hospital, where it was ascertained that several of the ribs had been fractured, and that he had sustained other internal injuries. He never regained his consciousness, and died within an hour after admission into the hospital. The body of the unfortunate woman was taken to the morgue by the police. Nobody saw them quarrelling or falling out of the window, so it is still doubtful, whether it is a case of murder and suicide, or only an accident. It is just possible that they might have had a struggle near the window, and have accidentally fallen out of the window. On the other hand it is not impossible, that the husband might have thrown the wife out of the window and himself immediately committed suicide by falling down after her. Mr. Allan F. Turner, the coroner, will hold an inquest, at the morgue, this morning, on the body of the woman Buckumba.

HIGH COURT.—Appellate Side.

(Before the Hon. Mr. Justice Jardine and the Hon. Mr. Justice Ranade.)

TRYING TO CATCH THE RIGHT PERSON.

THE MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONER OF BOMBAY VS. SHAPURJEE DINSHAW DALLAS.

The court resumed consideration of a reference by Mr. W. R. Hamilton, Second Presidency Magistrate, Bombay, of the proceedings in a case in which the Municipal Commissioner proceeded against the defendant for failing to erect privies in an oart at Mahim. Mr. Russell, instructed by Messrs. Roughton and Byrne, appeared for the defendant; and the Hon. Mr. Macpherson, instructed by Messrs. Crawford, Burder, and Bayley, appeared on behalf of the Municipal Commissioner.

The Hon. Mr. Macpherson, on behalf of the Municipal Commissioner, said the matter lay in a very small compass, arising as it did under section 248 of the Municipal Act. The real question was as to who was the person to provide the privies under that section. The matter being one of great importance, the Municipality had asked the Magistrate to hold, and he (Mr. Macpherson) asked their lordships to hold, that the word "premises" in section 248 ought to be read in the case as being applicable to the whole oart. Mr. Russell had endeavoured to show that the fazandar was not the owner of the huts. That, Mr. Macpherson said, could be taken for granted, but the real question at issue was in relation to the word "premises." The learned Advocate referred to the English Public Health Act and the Artisans and Labourers Act as defining the word premises, and submitted that the expression was an extremely elastic one, and that it had to be dealt with and applied to the case under discussion. The Mahim oart was occupied by all the residents of the huts, who erected a mandap for marriage feasts and festivals on the land. It was therefore difficult to see how the fazandar could state he was not the landlord of the oart, which the tenants had the general use of. It did not follow, Mr. Macpherson said, that in every section of the Act the word "premises" should be specifically defined. The learned counsel referred to a judgment of Sir Charles Sargent and Mr. Justice Bayley with regard to the meaning of the word premises in another section of the Act, dealing with the halalcore tax. The Commissioner, it was urged, was entitled to proceed against the owner of any intact premises, and that was to be seen in the privies had to be provided for the occupants of the land. The fazandar had brought the people on to the land, and it could not be said to be imposing a hardship upon him to require him to provide proper accommodation for the tenants of the huts. In the judgment just referred to, the word premises had been used, in its ordinary sense, as any number of buildings. The learned counsel did not argue that the fazandar was the owner of the tenements, but he was the owner of the oart, and that being so, the only question was whether the oart could be brought within the term premises, so as to render the fazandar liable to provide privies for the persons he had brought on to the land. Mr. Macpherson submitted that their lordships would not unduly strain the meaning of the term, for by so doing, they might make the section practically a dead letter, and he asked the court to decide that the fazandar, as the owner of the oart, was liable to provide the accommodation in question.

Mr. Russell, in reply, submitted that the arguments urged on the other side were in favour of the defendant; and he contended that the terms of such premises" in the Act could only mean such premises as were in the occupation of tenants of the huts. The fact of a mandap having beenerected in the bart did not make the fazandar the owner of the buildings; and under the circumstances, the learned counsel asked the court to hold that the defendant was not liable to build the privies.

Mr. Justice Jardine said the court would deliver its full judgment at a later period, but at present he and his learned colleague were inclined to hold that the fazandar was not liable on the ground that he was not the owner of the premises; and that the owner of the premises was the first person against whom the Commissioner should proceed. A case very like the present one had been reported in the Queen's Bench Reports, in which a sub-lessee of a house was held to be the owner for the purposes of a case very much like the present one. The English Acts in regard to the word owner left it to be interpreted much in regard to the aim of the statue; but as the court had been informed the matter before them was of importance, a written judgment would be delivered at a subsequent date.

LOCK BRAND SOAP.

PURSHOTUM PANDURANG NAVALKER VS. NOOR MAHOMED HAJI ABBA.

The plaintiff prayed that the defendant might be restrained by order of the court from selling or offering for sale any soap in bars, having branded thereon any mark in colourable imitation of the plaintiff's, &c. Mr. Ahmed Sayani, instructed by Messrs. Payne, Gilbert, and Sayani, appeared for the plaintiff. The defendant appeared in person.

The plaint stated that the plaintiff, who is a manufacturer of soap, has for several years past been manufacturing yellow soap of a superior quality, which has acquired a good reputation, and been extensively sold in Bombay and other parts of India. The soap is manufactured and sold in bars, which are packed in boxes, containing 25 bars in each box. In order to distinguish it from the soap of other manufacturers sold in the market, the plaintiff had caused his soap to be marked with the trade mark of two padlocks branded into each other, one on each side of the words "Lock brand," from which mark the plaintiff's soap had acquired the name of and been commonly sold in the market, as the "Talla-chap" or "Lock Brand" soap. In August, 1894, the plaintiff learned that the defendant, who is also a manufacturer of soap in Bombay, was manufacturing and selling yellow soap in bars, similar in length, colour, and general appearance, but of inferior quality to the soap manufactured by the plaintiff. The latter instituted criminal proceedings against the defendant, which are still pending. In spite of such proceedings, however, the defendant is still selling soap similar to the plaintiff's.

Mr. Thomas Hardy has completed his drama founded on Tess of D'Urbervilles. Mr. Robertson will play Angel Clare, and Mrs. Patrick Campbell will be Tess. The great scene of the play is Tess's confession to her husband on the night of the marriage, and here at all events the actress ought to find a great opportunity.

There was a queer story going about at Ascot that at the State ball and State concert some persons were present who had not been invited. They came with cards which had been sent to other persons. The fact is (says "Truth" that even at the Buckingham Palace entertainments there is now so overwhelming a crowd of official and plutocratic slipslop that it is utterly impossible for the Court officials on duty to identify every one, and if the card of the unknown Mr. X. is in the hands of the equally unknown Mr. Z., how is the transfer to be detected on the spot?

The Dowager-Marchioness of Lansdowne died at her residence, Meikleour House, Perthshire, aged seventy-six. She had only been ill a short time, was in Blairgowrie recently. She was and Emily Jane Mercer Elphinstone de Flahault, in her own right Baroness Nairne, and was married in 1843 to Henry Fitzmaurice, fourth Marquis of Lansdowne, who was Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs in the Liberal Government of 1856 to 1858, and who died in 1866, being succeeded by his son, the present Marquis. She leaves another son, Lord Edmund Fitzmaurice, and a daughter, Lady Emily Louisa Ann, who is married to Col. the Hon. Everard Charles Digby, late of the Grenadier Guards. For many years she has lived a quiet life, spending a considerable part of her time at Meikleour, where she was held in high respect.

The Society of Authors, the other night entertained Sir Walter Besant to dinner in the Holborn Restaurant, London. Sir W. M. Conway presided. Mr. Hall Caine proposed the toast of the evening, remarking that in drinking the health of Sir Walter Besant they drank to a novelist of old and assured renown, of high aims and noble achievements, a novelist who had given the world of his best, and never yet written a line which modesty or morality could wish him to blot. In drinking the health of Sir Walter Besant, they drank to a social reformer who had brought solace and cheer through so many years to so many thousands who had kindled good impulses of benevolence, and charity, and thrift, and self-help, and had been so happy as to see, while he is still in the meridian of life, a practical realisation of one of his imaginary pictures in the People's Palace of London. But there was a claim which came closer than these, and in drinking the health of Sir Walter Besant, they drank to the father of the profession of literature in our time as a profession, and to the first cause and founder of the Society of Authors. With one consent they rejoiced at the distinction that had been conferred upon their guest, first, for his own sake, because he had worked long and loyally for the honour and dignity of their calling; next for the sake of authorship, because it had thereby publicly proved in the face of mankind and of all other professions that a man of literary genius may properly be a man of rank; and finally for the sake of their Society, which had at length asserted its right to recognition in obtaining the recognition of the State and triumphed in the triumph of its founder and chief.

Sir Alexander Mackenzie was on the 24th ultimo afternoon presented with a testimonial from the directors, committee, professors, and officers of the Royal Academy of Music on his attaining the honour of knighthood. The presentation was made by the Duke of Coburg, who now, for the first time since his new honours, visited the Academy, of which for many years past he has been president. The gift took the form of a handsome timepiece and a diamond ornament for Lady Mackenzie, together with an address of congratulation. The address was read by Mr. Justice Chitty, and it mentioned that the council of the school gladly took this opportunity of expressing the deep sense of the valuable service Sir Alexander had rendered to music in this country, particularly to the Royal Academy of Music, during for the past seven years he had been president. The Duke also added a few words as to the unanimous choice of the musical profession, endorsed by public opinion, which secured the Royal sanction of knighthood, so that his Royal Highness was perfectly sure that, as Sir Alexander Mackenzie had been chosen he was the right man in the right place. On rising to reply, Sir A. C. Mackenzie was, partly through emotion, almost inaudible. He spoke of the joint work fulfilled by the professors and himself, and declared that in the success which the Academy had achieved he had only performed his share of that work. He added that if any one had told him in 1862, when as a young Scotsman fresh from abroad he became a student at the Academy, that he would one day occupy his present position and receive the compliment which had been paid him, he should have considered it fanciful. There was a large gathering of well-known musicians, including most of the professors of the Academy, many others from the Royal College and Guildhall School of Music. At the close of the proceedings the Duke of Edinburgh presided pro forma at a committee meeting.

The Great Western Railway is used by the Queen and her family more than any other line, and when Her Majesty travels most elaborate and perfect arrangements are, of course, made for safety and comfort. We gather from an interesting article by Mr. John Raphael in the July "Minster" that, if the Court is in London, notification of a journey is sent form Buckingham Palace to the general manager, Mr. Henry Lambert. That gentleman and Mr. T. I. Allen, superintendent of the line, at once carry out a carefully-devised plan. Printed notice of the event is sent to all station-masters concerned. Double receipt must be made; first by telegram, later in writing. Every signal-box on the line of route is apprised, and the station-masters visit the boxes to inquire whether the signalman has correctly interpreted the message. So skilfully is the traffic manipulated that neither impediment to the Royal train nor delay to travelling passengers occurs.

A leading American paper thus chronicles the latest fashion on the other side:—Babies are once again fashionable in the best society, and pretty young mothers have quite turned the tide of reproach that children were an inconvenience, by now making a great display in public of their offspring. Well-trained infants, garbed in the latest modes, are certainly charming adjuncts, and the "new woman" will find she is out in the cold unless she can reconcile her age and theories with motherhood. Whatever else may be said of this fashion, there is nothing particularly novel about it.

The present Serjeant-at-Arms, if a writer in Macmillan's Magazine for July is to be believed, is a very strict disciplinarian, so far, at least, as journalists are concerned. He never even smiles in the House. Consequently, the Lobbyists are rather afraid of him. One of the band has, says the writer, been suspended (that is, he has had his name removed from the list of Lobbyists) for neglecting to take off his hat to the Mace, as the Speaker, attended by the Serjeant-at-Arms carrying that symbol of the power and authority of the House of Commons, passed through the Lobby on his way to the Lords. It is fair to say that this is the only case of suspension for indecorous conduct on record for many years.

Lobbying, according to the same authority, is not now conducted with the unscrupulousness which marked it not so many years ago. "I have heard of a Lobbyist who for years paid a handsome weekly sum to one of the charmen (the men who sweep out the House of Commons) for the torn scraps of letters and documents with which the floor, close to the Treasury Bench and the front Opposition Bench, is littered at the close of a sitting. The Lobbyist used to go carefully through the scraps, piecing and patching them together, in the hope of lighting upon a State secret or an important item of political news." It is satisfactory to learn that the journalist got very little for his pains.

A funy story is appearing in some of the Continental papers concerning some nuns and the Pope. The nuns presented the latter with a piece of beautiful embroidery, on which a portrait of the Pope was worked. An eminent dignitary was engaged to present the gift, but the Pope complained that the mouth had been made too large. The witty priest excused the error by remarking: "I hope your Holiness will pardon the nuns; women are such chatterers that they don't understand how a mouth should be small." The pope burst into a hearty laugh, and accepted the gift with much graciousness.

When the Liver is not making Healthy Bile, or insufficient quantity, the Blood becomes impure, the groundwork of disease, and produces Constipation, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Headaches, Moping, Melancholy, Gout, Rheumatism, and nearly every form of disease.

ENO'S "FRUIT SALT"
is the simplest and best remedy yet introduced. It prevents Diarrhœa, and removes it in the early stages.

ENO'S "FRUIT SALT"
assists the functions of the LIVER, BOWELS, SKIN, and KIDNEYS by Natural Means; thus the Blood is freed from POISONOUS or other HURTFUL MATTERS. It is impossible to overstate its great value. THERE IS NO DOUBT that, where it has been taken in the earliest stages of a disease, it has, in innumerable instances, PREVENTED a SEVERE ILLNESS. Without such a simple precaution, the JEOPARDY of LIFE is IMMENSELY INCREASED.

SCARLET FEVER, PYÆMIA, ERYSIPELAS, MEASLES, GANGRENE, and almost every mentionable Disease.—"I have been a nurse for upwards of ten years, and in that time have nursed cases of scarlet fever, pyæmia, erysipelas, measles, gangrene, cancer, and almost every mentionable disease. During the whole time I have not been ill myself for a single day, and this I attribute in a great measure to the use of ENO'S FRUIT SALT, which has kept my blood in a pure state. I recommended it to all my patients during convalescence. Its value as a means of health cannot be overestimated.—A PROFESSIONAL NURSE. "April 21st, 1894."

EASTERN EQUATORIAL AFRICA.
Cavendish Square, W., October 26, 1894.
DEAR SIR,—I have recently returned from Eastern Equatorial Africa, where I lived for upwards of 12 years.
I enjoyed phenomenal health, and in my opinion it was undoubtedly owing to the daily use of your "Fruit Salt," the beneficial qualities of which I had previously found in England. I have no hesitation in saying that my life was preserved by it.
On my way home I had a severe attack of intermittent fever, the sea was rough, and the ship's medical attendant was (as that officer usually is) prostrate with "mal de mer," and unable to attend to anyone. The fever gained and gained on me, but after a few doses of ENO'S "FRUIT SALT" I at last fell into a refreshing sleep, and found on awakening that the intense thirst had gone, and long before I had arrived at Aden was as well as I had ever been in my life.
I am, dear Sir, Yours truly,
ANGLO-AFRICAN.

CHEMICAL LABORATORY, 54, Holborn Viaduct, London, January 18th, 1888.
I hereby certify that I have submitted to a careful examination and Chemical Analysis a sample, purchased by myself from the stock of a well-known firm of Wholesale Druggists, of the preparation known as "Koko for the Hair." I have found nothing in this preparation which could be injurious either to the head or hair, and the results of the analysis lead me to pronounce "Koko for the Hair" a pleasant dressing, which would undoubtedly be advantageous in many cases. I discovered in the preparation no ingredients of the nature of a colouring matter or dye.
